CAUGHT IN THE CRASH

Over a Hundred Elks More or Less Seriously Injured.

COLLAPSE OF A BUILDING.

One Thousand Persons Thrown to the Floor Beneath, Crushing Fully Two Hundred People Assembled There—No One Was Killed Outright but One Has Since Died—Details of the Disaster.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 11.—The social session tendered by Atlantic City lodge to the visiting Elks at the Baltimore avenue Casino last night ended in a terrible disaster in which fully 100 persons were more or less seriously injured. The session had just opened and only one of the speakers had been heard, when, without the slightest warning, the building, which had not been used for several years, collapsed, and fully 1,000 persons were thrown to the floor beneath.

Many women, the wives of the visiting Elks, went down in the ruins. Fully 200 persons, who were on the first floor of the building, and immediately beneath the banquet hall, were crushed beneath timbers and lay helpless. The fact that all the electric lights in the building went out at the time the building gave way, added to the terrible situation. A double alarm for the fire department was at once turned in and the city's fire force of 200 firemen and every police officer in the city were called to the scene as a hospital corps. The police ambulances and carriages of every description were utilized to convey the injured to the hospitals and to their hotels.

When the police and firemen arrived on the scene the excitement was so intense that they scarcely knew where to begin first. An immense crowd of people had been attracted to the place by the noise of the falling building and the groans of the unfortunate who were pinned beneath bricks and timbers. The streets for several blocks were choked. The air was full of anxious inquiries for friends and relatives who were thought to have been in the building. Within a few minutes the police succeeded in clearing the space in the immediate neighborhood of the building and placed ropes around to keep the crowd back.

In the meantime the firemen had set to work to extricate the wounded from beneath the mass of timbers, and they were aided in their work by the hotel keepers and residents near the scene. Every house was thrown open for the reception of the injured, and every available conveyance was pressed into service to carry them to their hotels. Meanwhile physicians were on the scene, and were doing everything in their power to aid the unfortunate who had been caught in the crash. As quickly as the unconscious form of a victim was taken out of the ruins willing hands bore it to the nearest place, and everything that surgical skill could do to alleviate their sufferings was done.

The excitement amidst the assembled crowds was even greater than that in the immediate neighborhood of the building. All sorts of rumors were rife. It was first reported that the building had caught fire, and that in the consequent panic many lives had been crushed out. Then a rumor came that the entire edifice had collapsed. As it had been generally known, however, that the social session of the order had been in progress in the building, and that it would in all likelihood be the largest attended event of the convention, almost every new arrival upon the scene was almost frantic with grief and anxiety for some relative or friend. Their fears were to an extent quieted, however, when it was learned from a good source that no lives had been lost.

In the excitement of the disaster it was almost impossible to procure accurate details. The list of the injured can not be compiled, but the following are the more seriously injured:

James J. Armstrong, New York, both legs broken.

Major Wolfe, Atlantic City, light-house engineer, injured internally.

Charles W. Tolwell, Camden, leg and arm broken.

A number of the members of Jennings' band of Camden, N. J., were injured.

The members of the Washington Elks and their friends escaped without injury.

The first victim to succumb to his injuries was Frederick Claproth of 846 Kimber street, Camden. He died shortly after midnight at a neighboring hotel, to which he had been conveyed. Claproth had been in the crowd on the lower floor of the building when the crash came. Both his legs and arms had been broken. He never regained consciousness.

ELK HORN LOCKED NO LONGER.
The Two Factions United Amid a Scene of Great Euphoria.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 11.—Yesterday morning's session of the Grand Lodge of Elks witnessed the completion of the peace negotiations for the uniting of the two factions of the great order. It was the result of a secret conference lasting the greater part of the previous night, at which Meade D. Detweiler and several representatives of the Buffalo faction and the grand exalted ruler and grand lodge of the Atlantic City faction were present.

A committee was appointed to escort Mr. Detweiler, who was the recognized head of the Buffalo faction, into the meeting hall yesterday. His arrival was announced, and as he entered the building the entire grand lodge rose in a body, and with hands clasped sang "Auld Lang Syne." Cheers after cheers rent the air, hats were thrown to the ceiling, and the wildest kind of enthusiasm reigned. There was a brief cessation when Mr. Detweiler ascended to the stage. He grasped the hand of Grand Exalted Ruler Hay, and both men were visibly affected.

After addressing Mr. Hay as grand exalted ruler amid another outburst of cheering, he continued by reviewing the differences that have separated the lodge, and declared that it was the proudest moment of his life when he could say: "Thank God, I am back in the fold." Speeches were made by Mr. Hay and others of the grand lodge officials.

Grand Exalted Ruler Hay, in speaking of the settlement of the differences between the Jamestown and Atlantic City factions, said: "This is the best moment of my life. It is the result of my prayers and endeavors for years, and in welcoming Mr. Detweiler we welcome all the Elks in the country."

The terms upon which the order was united provided that the constitution adopted at Atlantic City last year be submitted to the subordinate lodge, and if not ratified by a majority then the constitution of Detroit will be in effect; that the nine lodges admitted by the Jamestown faction be considered legal and given new numbers beginning at 308.

In the case of the two Punxsutawney (Pa.) lodges, one of which is united with the Jamestown faction and the other with the Atlantic City faction, the grand exalted ruler was directed to notify them to consolidate. All lodges that have paid their per capita tax to the Jamestown grand lodge will be considered as paid to the regular grand lodge. The question of paying bills incurred by the Jamestown faction was referred to a committee.

After number of committee reports had been received the meeting adjourned for the day. In the afternoon the annual parade was held. There were 5,000 Elks in line.

IOWA REPUBLICANS.

State Ticket Nominated and the National Platform Approved Of.

DES MOINES, July 11.—The Republican state convention yesterday was one of the largest and most memorial in the history of the party in Iowa. There were 10 candidates for governor and six ballots were necessary to decide the contest resulting in the nomination of General G. M. Drake of Cterville for governor. Hon. Matt Parrott of Waterloo was nominated for lieutenant governor on the second ballot and Supreme Judge Given, State Superintendent Sabin and Railroad Commissioner Perking were renominated.

Senator Allison was present and was received with wild and enthusiastic demonstrations when his name was mentioned in connection with the presidency.

The resolutions were conservatives, mainly reiterating the Republican national platform on the currency and tariff questions.

OUTBREAK EXPECTED

Affairs in Bluefields Becoming Critical.

SOLDIERS READY FOR DUTY.

The Miners Are Armed and When They Find Out They Are Beaten Will Not Hesitate to Resort to Almost Any Means to Secure Their Ends For Vengeance.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 11.—Colonel R. S. Carr, formerly of the governor's staff, who was sent to Bluefield to report on the situation, wired that the situation is peculiar. The miners have not yet realized that they have lost, he says, and when they do so, he is led to believe, by what he has seen and heard that they will leave the field, but before doing so, will destroy as much property as possible.

They are in a great many instances well armed, and, owing to their desperate condition, will not hesitate to resort to almost any means to secure their ends for vengeance. One man came to Cooper's, near Bramwell, to go to work yesterday, but was marched away by two armed strikers.

Colonel Carr says the civil authorities of McDowell county are clearly in sympathy with the strikers, and will take no steps to prevent disorder or to quell it if it arises. He regards the outlook as very serious.

Outbreak Hourly Expected.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., July 11.—A private telegram from the Elkhorn mining region is to the effect that trouble is brewing again among the strikers and an outbreak may occur at any time. The militia here are expecting to be ordered out again at any moment.

CUBA'S NEW PRESIDENT.

Tomas Estrada Palma Has Been Selected Jose Marti's successor.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The Cuban societies in this and other cities of the United States are intensely interested in the election of a president for the Cuban republic, which the revolutionists hope to create. The president will take charge of the movement for independence. He will further make efforts to secure from the governments of this and other countries recognition of the insurgent force as entitled to the rights of belligerents.

Enrique Trujillo, editor of El Pionero, and one of the revolutionary leaders in this city, said:

"We already have received ballots from seven of the 10 clubs which form the electoral college. Those we have heard from are Ocalá and Jacksonville, Fla., Vera Cruz, Mex., New Orleans, Chicago, Philadelphia and New York. They are unanimously in favor of Tomas Estrada Palma. The three districts yet to be heard from are Tampa and Key West, Fla., and Kingston, Jamaica. We will soon hear from these three, and they will, I am confident, send ballots for Mr. Palma. Tomorrow, without doubt, we can announce the election of Mr. Palma as president of the Cuban republic."

Mr. Palma is a well known and wealthy Cuban. He has long been identified with movements for the independence of Cuba.

The arrival in this city of Francisco Sanchez Echeverria, a noted Cuban patriot, is regarded as most significant to the cause of Cuban independence. Mr. Echeverria arrived by the steamer Segurana of the Ward line from Vera Cruz, Mex. It is generally supposed that he will organize a filibustering expedition here and shortly sail for Cuba.

In an interview he said: "Several months ago the authorities placed me under surveillance, and four days previous to the breaking out of the revolution placed me under arrest. I was exiled with my family and took passage to Vera Cruz, Mexico. While there I organized a number of clubs in the interest of Cuban independence. Hundreds of sympathizers in the cause joined and enthusiastically offered themselves as volunteers for a filibustering expedition to Cuba. Unfortunately they were mostly young men with little money and it was found impossible to raise the funds for the equipping of such an expedition. Finally on invitation of the revolutionaries in this city I have journeyed here to join them."

"Passengers on the Segurana, who came aboard at Havana, say that the reign of terror is going on in that city. The people of the town expect at any moment to be arrested and have their property seized. Many have already left for the United States, Mexico and the West Indies."

General Gonzalez de Quesada, secretary of the Cuban revolutionary party in this city, has announced that a meeting of the revolutionists would be held at the Hardman hall in this city in the course of three or four days.

Spain and the United States.

MADRID, July 11.—Senor Sagasta, the ex-premier, during the course of an interview yesterday, declared that the Liberals would agree to pay the Mora indemnity provided the United States grants indemnities for damages sustained by Spaniards during the war of secession, and provided the cortes agrees to vote the credit necessary.

El Liberal, commenting on the situation in Cuba, says the United States has loyally performed its international obligations so far as the island of Cuba is concerned.

Havana Adviser.

HAVANA, July 11.—A train bound from Puerto Principe to Nuevitas has had to return, owing to the fact that the insurgents have burned the bridge at Punta Pilón.

It is now stated that the insurgent leader Garzon died from the wounds which he received in the fight near Minas Daquiro, in the province of Santiago de Cuba.

The three brothers Diaz have surrendered, one at Santo Domingo and two at Camajuani, in the province of Santa Clara.

FORGERIES GROWING.

Z. T. Lewis' Crooked Transaction May Reach Two Hundred Thousand Dollars.

URBANA, O., July 11.—Additional forgeries continue to come to light on Z. T. Lewis. The amount of forgeries known positively aggregate $11,000. This does not include large amounts that are supposed to be forgeries.

George Mock, a Columbus broker, has just turned up with $10,000 fraudulent bonds. Five thousand are Adams county bonds and $5,000 Tippecanoe city school bonds. W. E. Hutton of Cincinnati has $10,000 of Tippecanoe city school bonds that are fraudulent. Boston bankers have a batch of forged Mechanicsburg school bonds. They are rank forgeries, having lithographed signatures of the officials in place of written signatures. They also have the name of John J. Morris signed as clerk of the school board, when the correct name is John J. Mauk. Similar bonds are held by Springfield parties.

It is believed here that the forgeries will aggregate $300,000. The liens on property of Lewis, in this county, amount to $93,000, while the property is valued at about $60,000. Judge Heiserman appointed Sheriff Miller receiver of the property of Lewis yesterday evening.

Z. T. Lewis was at one time candidate for state treasurer before the Republican convention. He has also tried for nomination as representative from Champaign county, but always badly defeated. He at one time was proprietor of The Daily Citizen, he organized the Home Savings bank in Urbana, established banks at Plain City, Forest, Ansonia and Anna. In all his transactions he never sold forged bonds outright, but kept them for use as collateral security, thereby controlling them, and covering up his tracks.

Thought They Were Gilt-Edged Security.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 11.—E. B. Hutchinson, chief of the claims department of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, with headquarters here, holds $11,000 worth of the bogus bonds put on the market by Z. T. Lewis of Urbana, O. They are school bonds, supposed to have been issued by the town of Tippecanoe, O. Lewis offered to take them up about a week ago, but Hutchinson refused to surrender them, thinking they were gilt-edged securities. Some time ago Hutchinson loaned Lewis a sum of money belonging to a relative, taking bonds as collateral security. Hutchinson surrendered the bonds a short time ago, and the money was paid without delay.

SONGS OF TEMPERANCE.

Fifty-First Annual Convention in Session at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, July 11.—The 51st annual convention of the national division, Sons of Temperance, was called to order in army and navy hall yesterday with a large attendance. The first session was principally devoted to the reports of the officers.

President Eavenson's report showed that the membership of the organization had decreased about 2,500 during the past year, owing to the hard times and a failure on the part of many to pay dues. Otherwise the report indicated the order to be growing and broadening in all its branches. The total number of subordinate divisions is 1,236, the number instituted during the past year being 131. The total membership of the order on March 31 last was 59,680. It has cash on hand and invested, $3,126.44.

The most important matter to come before the order is proposed changes in the constitution and ritual. They will be changed throughout. It is proposed to make them more aggressive to meet the advancing requirements of the order.

Woman and Child Horribly Mangled.

FOSTORIA, O., July 11.—Nathan Goodrich, head clerk at the Toledo and Ohio Central freight office, was out riding on a three-wheeled handcar about 7:30 yesterday evening with his wife and little son, when about one and one-half miles south of the city the car was struck by an engine and they were thrown under the wheels. Mrs. Goodrich and the little boy were killed, both of them being horribly mangled. Mr. Goodrich was seriously hurt, and his recovery is doubtful. The train which struck them was a special, consisting of an engine and caboose.

Thieves Use Chloroform.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 11.—Last night thieves entered the house of John Crawford at Sewell, and chloroformed Mr. Crawford and wife while they were asleep and carried off about $40 in money and a valuable watch and chain and a valuable ring, making their total haul amount to about $175. Mrs. Crawford awoke first and revived her husband. The baby could not be resuscitated for several hours, and is still very ill. There is no clew. Some time ago Mr. Crawford, who is well-to-do

THE Democratic sky in New Jersey is brightening. The prospects for victory are growing better daily.

NO OBJECTION can be made to the Democratic State ticket. It is made up of gentlemen of standing and worth.—Georgetown Times.

And all good Democrats, men who are worthy of the support of every member of the party. Let's get together and give 'em an old-time majority.

IF what the Wisconsin Farmer says about the upward tendency of the price of sheep is true, the Republican farmer who killed his flock and sent their carcasses to market in the belief that the new tariff had killed the wool industry, will very likely, whenever he reads about the advancing prices in his weekly newspaper, to go out behind the barn and kick himself for being such a fool as to put his trust in the teachings of the McKinleyites. The Farmer says:

We stated some weeks ago that the prices of sheep had an upward tendency, and at that time we had special reference to the Chicago market. The same tendency now appears to have struck the country, and there is a gradually increasing demand for sheep. Wethers are changing hands in Devil's River County at 90 cents to $3 per head, and one large flock of ewes bought last year during the stampede at 65 cents per head has just been sold at $1.65 per head. It does not require much of a scholar to figure out the profits of this investment.

THE New York World argues that the farmer who has had to sell this year will find it a paying crop, for the reason that in certain large sections of the West there was a deficiency in the rainfall last spring, making the grass crop unusually short in those sections, much of it scarce worth the cutting. It goes on to state that the hay crop of last year was nearly 11,000,000 tons less than the crop of 1893, and that the prospect of another and a much greater deficiency in the marketable surplus has put a fancy price upon the available supply out West. Hay in this section has commanded a fairly high price for two or three years past, but the present prospect of a deficiency is likely to send it up much higher.

Few persons perhaps realize the money value of the crop to the farmer," continues the World, "and most people will be surprised to learn that the hay crop is worth more than twice as much as the wheat crop; and yet that is how the statistician of the Agricultural Department figures it out. He puts the value of the crop in 1893 at $570,882,872, or nearly $300,000,000 more than the value of the wheat crop and $16,000,000 more than the corn crop of last year."

Telling the Truth. (Exchange.)

The Sufferers "Recorder" in an article under the above heading at least comes within hailing distance of the truth when it says: "A preacher comes to a newspaper man in this way: 'You editors dare not tell the truth. If you did, you could not live, your newspaper would be a failure.' The editor replied: 'You are right; and the minister who will at all times and under all circumstances tell the whole truth about his members, alive or dead, will not occupy his pulpit more than one Sunday, and then will find it necessary to leave town in a hurry.' The press and the pulpit go hand in hand with whitewash brushes and pleasant words, magnifying little virtues into big ones. The pulpit, the pen and tombstone are the great saint making triumvirate." And the good minister went away very thoughtful, while the editor turned to his work and told of the surpassing beauty of the bride, while, in fact, she was as homely as a hedge-fence.

NEAR Greenup, William Redmond climbed a tree for the purpose of robbing a woodpecker's nest. As he thrust his hand into the hole a black snake darted out and started to glide over his shoulders. Willie took a tumble, breaking his arm and otherwise injuring himself.

THE OUTLOOK PROMISING

For Good Crops in Kentucky—Weekly Report of the State Weather Service.

The week was characterized by a continuation of the favorable conditions reported last week. The temperature and sunshine varied but slightly from the normal, and were sufficient for the needs of all crops. Scattered showers fell in several portions of the State during the early part of the week, but the rains of the 6th and 7th were general and in some places very heavy. The amounts reported by correspondents in various parts of the State usually exceed one inch, though in several of the central and southern counties much larger amounts fell. The correspondent at Perryburg, in Graves County, states that 3.34 inches fell during the week. This is by far the largest amount reported to this office for the week.

The general tone of reports continues to be cheerful, and while several important crops have not come up to expectations, the outlook for all which will be harvested from this time on to the end of the season is very promising.

The work of cutting wheat was about completed during the week, and threshing is well under way in the western half of the State. Reports as to the yield continue to be conflicting, though but very few correspondents estimate that the crop will be up to the average. Generally speaking, the yield is much less than was anticipated, and the quality of the grain is not up to the standard. Considerable damage to wheat in the shock resulted from the heavy rains of the week. The rains have also interfered with the work of threshing to some extent.

No crop has improved more under recent favorable influences than oats. Harvesting has commenced in places, but the work is not, as yet, fully under way, having been delayed by the rains. Nearly all correspondents report a good yield in prospect, and some state that it will be exceptionally large, and, in fact, the best in years. Cutting will be general throughout the State during the next few days, provided the weather will permit.

The reports this week relative to corn are practically a repetition of those received last week. There is scarcely a dissension from the general opinion of farmers that the prospects for the crop are highly encouraging. Many state that the present outlook is the best in ten years. The weather conditions of the past month have been especially favorable to this crop, and although it is still slightly late and its growth somewhat uneven in places, it is healthy and vigorous and of good color. It is unusually clear of weeds and grasses, though in a few localities where the rains have been so frequent as to prevent cultivation, there is some complaint of the presence of these detriments. Generally speaking, however, the greater portion of the crop is "laid by" in fine condition. Some fields upon low grounds were damaged from overflows. A few correspondents report that the chinch bug is leaving the wheat and going into corn fields, but no serious or general injury is anticipated from it.

Tobacco shows an improved condition over that reported last week. It has been greatly benefitted by the recent rain, and the plants are growing very rapidly. The majority of correspondents state that the growth of the crop is uneven, but this will be overcome with a continuance of favorable weather conditions. Some of the plants are now in the top in the southern counties and the general outlook for the crop is very encouraging.

Pastures and meadows were improved during the week but are still in poor condition, and the latter are now too far advanced for any further betterment in their condition to be expected.

Gardens are much better than was anticipated some time ago, and such produce as has been harvested is generally of good quality.

Late fruits promise well, but the earlier ones, especially peaches, are, as a rule, short and very inferior in quality.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

BUSINESS IMPROVEMENT.

What a Republican Congressman Says of the Situation Out West.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The improvement in business conditions has reached the Pacific coast, and another Republican comes to the front to tell about the increasing prosperity under a Democratic Administration. This time it is Representative W. H. Doolittle, of Tacoma, Wash. The first thing he knows he will be read out of the party. Just listen to this treasonable language uttered here to-day:

"Everybody is feeling good out in my country over the improvement of business. The Pacific slope is starting in on a new era of prosperity, and in the State of Washington the change from a period of depression to activity is very noticeable. In my own city there is a large amount of building going on, and quite a number of new manufacturing concerns have been lately established. The Northern Pacific Steamship Company has added two steamers to its fleet, and our trade with China and Japan is steadily increasing. In fact, the outlook for prosperity in the Northwest is better than for years. This time the growth will be solid and the prosperity permanent."

Mark the last sentence: "This time the growth will be solid and the prosperity permanent." If Mr. Doolittle continues to talk in this strain what will become of McKinley, Reed and Harrison, who have been shouting "calamity" for the past year.

THE SENATORS,

The Washington City League Team, Will Play Here To-morrow.

And Maybe the Locals Wont Try to Down 'Em—The Norwoods Again Beaten.

The Washington league team of ball players, better known as the Senators, will come up from Cincinnati to-morrow and play the Maysvilles at the new park to-morrow afternoon. The indications point to even a larger crowd than the one present a week or so ago when the Maysvilles defeated the Cincinnati Reds. Quite a number of the Pythian Knights now in camp at Parks Hill will probably come down to see the game, and of course there will be a large turn out from this city and surrounding country.

The locals have defeated every club they have met this season, and if they get together and put up as good a game to-morrow as they did when the Reds were here the Washingtons will be downed. The boys can put up gilt-edge ball when they try, and that's what they must do to-morrow. Go out and see the game.

The Norwoods were again defeated yesterday afternoon, but it required some good work on the part of the locals to pull out of a hole they got themselves into in the seventh inning. When the Maysvilles went to bat in the ninth, three runs were needed to win the game. Wellner was the first man up. He had struck out every time he faced "Kidspanker" Lever, but this time he landed on one and sent it down into right field for a base. Cox followed and got his base on balls, and Hall, the next man up, was hit by the pitcher, filling the bases. It was Captain McGann's next turn with the stick, and he was just the one wanted. He hit a hot grounder right past Lever and on down over second base for a single, scoring Wellner and Cox and sending Hall to third. McGann went right on towards second, was purposely caught between bases, and then while they were trying to run him down, Hall reached home with the winning run, amid the wild cheers of the Maysville "rooters."

Leever was in the box for the visitors, and as usual had a world of speed, and some wonderful drops and curves, fanning out thirteen of the Maysvilles. But his speed and curves were largely offset by his wildness and lack of command. He sent six men to first on balls, and another by hitting him, and four of these afterwards scored. He was so wild, most of the locals were uneasy every time they faced him, and this accounts partly for so many strike outs. Even with his speed and curves and drops the locals touched him up for nine hits, while the Norwoods got but ten hits off of Wellner. Wellner kept the hits well scattered except in the seventh when he let down and the visitors bunched four, three singles and a three-bagger. The score:

THE SHOE FACTORY.

It Is to Be Enlarged and Its Output Increased—A Fine Showing Made.

At a meeting of the stockholders and directors of the Maysville Shoe Manufacturing Company last night it was decided to enlarge the factory and increase the output, to accommodate its growing trade. The reports of Superintendent Brodt and Bookkeeper Cheeseman as to the company's business were very gratifying.

The building will be enlarged one half, which will give a capacity of five hundred pairs of shoes daily.

Two new styles of lasts will be added, which will include ladies' shoes. Four new styles of shoes will be made hereafter embracing button, lace, imitation lace and button, Oxford, Newport ties and the latest styles of slippers and strap sandals which are becoming the most popular of all fine footwear for children and ladies.

The Maysville shoe has found a place in some of the finest shoe stores in Cincinnati, Dayton, O., Springfield, O., Columbus, O., Hamilton, O., Indianapolis, Louisville, New Orleans, Atlanta, St. Louis and various others of the best cities of the union.

The success of the factory must be very gratifying not only to the stockholders and others directly interested, but also to every friend of the city. What Maysville needs, is a few more factories.

Subscription to the stock of the company will be received. Help this enterprise along in every way possible.

DR. EDDMON'S TRIAL.

Several More Witnesses Testify at the Second Day's Examination.

TOLEDO, July 11.—The Bowling Green courthouse was packed to the doors and hundreds failed to gain admittance to hear the Eddmon murder trial. Mrs. Stevens testified that on the night of the murder she heard Nellie Hartsing on Eddmon's porch say: "Someone is quarreling near the barn," and "someone is shot." She heard Dr. Eddmon say he had three revolvers in his store. Since the murderer has denied owing any.

Dr. Collins, another druggist, testified that Eddmon said he was reading a paper when he heard the shot, and it sounded as if from the back room of the store. He and Eddmon went to notify Peany of his wife's death. Eddmon insisted when he saw no one in the lower room that Peany was not at home, and tried to get witness to leave the house. He refused, and found Peany asleep upstairs.

Jacob Miner testified he had heard Eddmon say he was on the way home when he heard the shot. Later Eddmon said he was reading a paper, and still later told the coroner he was counting his cash in the store.

Earl Cass gave practically the same testimony. He was asked about a man named Dennis and said Dennis was a blacksmith, claimed to be hunting a location for a shop; spent the night at Stevens' boardinghouse where Miner and Cass stayed; did not go to the scene of the murder but left the next day. This testimony is conjectured to mean that the defense will throw suspicion on Dennis.

Dr. Canfield testified that Eddmon told him he was counting cash when the shot was fired. He asked Eddmon whether there was any trouble between Peany and his wife. He answered he did not like to say, that "one must be very careful in matters of this kind."

John Huston testified he searched in the alley back of Eddmon's store on that night, but could find no tracks.

Peter Van Valkenburg testified the ground was soft and muddy that night. The gate from the alley to Eddmon's lot was padlocked. Had seen a revolver belonging to Eddmon in the latter's store about six months before the murder.

The principal witness of the day was the husband of the murdered woman. He testified that the doctor frequently went to his house late at night to be shaved. That the night before the tragedy he called after 1 o'clock, and Mrs. Peany called him telling him that Dr. Eddmon was there and wanted to be shaved. This was the first time that she had kept the doctor out of the house until he came down. Peany also stated that when he retired at 8:30 his wife went into her bedroom and he never saw her alive afterward. He had never suspected his wife of undue intimacy with Dr. Eddmon, and was not jealous of her. He slept alone upstairs for three years on account of catarrh.

WITNESS KNOCKED OUT.

He Demands Five Thousand Dollars of the Party He Is Prosecuting.

PITTSBURG, July 11.—John S. Duss, senior trustee of the Economite society, was murderously attacked last night by John Weggel, a hanger-on at Harmony, who testified against Duss in the suit for the control of the immense property of the society, and who afterward testified in favor of Duss.

The story goes that Weggel called on Duss at the Great House last night and demanded $5,000 or he would again testify against him. Duss refused and Weggel struck him with his crutch, stunning him. Then he attacked Mrs. Duss, but a servant pulled him away. By this time Trustee Duss had recovered and dealt Weggel a knockout blow.

Heavy Rain in New Mexico.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., July 11.—The hardest rain for years visited this section of New Mexico last night. The Rio Puerco bridge on the Atlantic and Pacific was washed away, detaining all trains from the west, and several washouts are reported at other places. South of this city, on the Santa Fe road, much damage was done by washouts on the Silver City branch. Half a dozen small bridges are reported gone between Rincon and Deming. More rain is expected.

Trying to Release Waller.

TOPEKA, July 11.—Leading colored men in Kansas are raising money and taking other steps to try to secure the release of ex-Consul John I. Waller from the French military prison, where he has been sentenced to serve a 20-year's term as a spy. It is expected that a meeting will be held here within a few days in Waller's behalf. Judge John Guthrie has interested himself in Waller's behalf.

Big Claims Shut Out.

RICHMOND, Ind., July 11.—In a decision by Special Judge Miller yesterday it was held that the bondholders' claim of $200,000 against the insolvent streetcar company must be paid. This shuts out the General Electric company of New York, the Illinois Steel company of Chicago and the Shale Brick company of Canton, O., all of whom had large claims against the company. Several smaller claims were allowed. The plant is in the hands of a receiver and the court ordered that it be sold immediately.

Wireworkers Alarmed.

CLEVELAND, July 11.—A report that the American Wire company had arranged to bring a large number of colored men here to take the place of the striking employees, caused much excitement among the wire drawers who are out on a strike. The officials of the company deny the report but intimate that an attempt will be made to start up work within a day or two.

Charged With Embezzlement.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., July 11.—George W. Weeks, one of the leading abstractors, loan and insurance agents of this city, prominent in church and social circles, was arrested late yesterday afternoon charged with embezzlement. He is short about $8,000. The arrest caused a profound commotion.

KID GLOVES.

Interesting Facts About the Skins Which Cover or Adorn the Hands.

Barefooted boys and hens form a curious partnership in the making of a pair of fine gloves.

They work together in preparing the skins for the hands of the fashionable woman who rushes to the stores every time a new shade of glove is announced.

Thousands of dozens of hens' eggs are used in curing the hides, and thousands of boys are employed to work the skins in clear water by treading on them for several hours.

When a woman buys a pair of gloves, she speaks of her purchase as "kids." If the clerk who sold her the "kid" gloves knew the secrets of the glove-making business, he might surprise his fair customer by telling her that those beautiful, soft, smooth fitting "kid" gloves came from the shoulders and belly of a 3-weeks-old colt whose neck was slit on the plains of Russia, and whose tender hide was shipped with huge bundles of other colts' hides to France, where they were made up into "kid" gloves, or he might with equal regard to the truth tell her that those gloves in the other compartment once darted from tree to tree in South America on the back of a ring tailed monkey. And if he made the rounds of the store and could distinguish one skin from another he could point out "kid" gloves made from the skins of kangaroos from Australia; lambs or sheep from Ohio or Spain or England; calves from India, muskrats from anywhere, musk oxen from China and other parts of Asia; rats, cats and Newfoundland puppies.

But the little Russian colt, the four footed baby from the plains where the Cossacks live, the colt from the steppes of Siberia, where horses are raised by the thousand, supply the skins which are the favorites at present with the glovemakers. Experts say that the colt-skin makes a better, stronger, finer glove than real kidskin, and as the colt is a little fellow only 3 weeks old when he is killed but a small amount of skin can be made into gloves, so that the price is about as high.

But, after all, the real kid, the lively infant of the goats which live in France, Switzerland, Spain and Italy, furnishes the best, finest and most expensive gloves, and nearly 10,000,000 kids are sacrificed every year in order that women and men may clamp their hands in wrinkleless, delicate hued gloves.—Chicago Record.

A NEW CATTLE FOOD.

Meal of Sunflower Cake Now Used In Many Parts of Europe.

[Scientific American.]

Sunflower cake has been found, especially in Russia, one of the best auxiliary cattle foods. As early as the year 1866 about 100,000 centners of sunflower oil (oil of the seeds of Helianthus annus) were manufactured in Russia, and its amount has increased year by year, it being esteemed as a very palatable alimentary oil. The oil was formerly obtained by hydraulic means; the residual cake is harder than any other variety of oil cake, and for this reason apparently it has not found wider application. Denmark and the northern countries import large quantities annually, as do also the eastern provinces of Germany, and the problem of its distribution has been successfully solved by several manufacturers there. It is still unknown in southern and western Germany; now, however, that it is put on the market in the form of meal it will doubtless soon find general application, suited, as it is, both on account of its composition and pleasant taste, for fattening cattle.

SUBTREASURY RECEIPTS.

Some Queer Things That Are Received From Various Postoffices.

Several odd things are received at the subtreasury.

Two cents were received in a letter from Postmaster James A. Hill of Paris, Ind., it being the amount of his receipts for three months. Another letter contained 8 cents, which was the quarterly remittance of Postmaster R. N. Trickler of Comstock, O.

Another peculiar thing received was a box 18 inches square by a foot deep marked merchandise from a bank at Granville, O. When Coin Teller Phil Turpin removed the lid, he beheld a lot of sawdust and exclaimed to the other clerks, "Boys, here's a lot of eggs sent to the office as present."

They all crowded around, and Mr. Turpin thrust his hand into the sawdust cautiously to get an egg, but he was not a little surprised when he brought up a handful of pennies. Everybody was disappointed, but they could not restrain their laughter at how they had been fooled. The box contained 56,800 pennies. A note at the bottom asked to have them exchanged for currency.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Our New Navy.

The great battleship Indiana, which has cost the government over $3,250,000, is nearly in trim to leave the ways, but in all our navy yards and splendid harbors there is no drydock that can float the new vessel.

If anything should happen to the bottom of the Indiana, it would be necessary to take her elsewhere or else drop anchor and allow the ship's sides to gather barnacles while the half completed docks at the Brooklyn navy yard, at Port Royal and at Port Orchard are being finished.

The last named will probably be ready for use within a year, and each of those now in process of construction will be able to float the Indiana or any one of the monsters in the new fleet.—New York Post.

Larew-Van Norstrand.

Dr. John T. Larew and Miss Emma Van Norstrand, of St. Louis, were quietly married a few days ago. The groom is a native of this county, and is a brother of Mr. W. P. Larew and Mrs. H. B. Taylor, formerly of this city. He has resided in St. Louis for several years, and is one of the leading physicians of that city. His many friends and relatives in Maysville and Mason County unite in good wishes to him and his bride.
